

Headlight Upgrade

- by South Coast CORSA, Los Angeles, CA

The dark evenings really come early during the winter. A number of folks have asked about better headlamps that are easy to install (no wiring upgrades, etc.), easy to buy, and are reasonable in cost. A brighter headlamp replacement that fits and has the same connector is the sealed beam Halogen headlamp. See the chart below that shows the position of the headlamps per their universal part number (all brands use these numbers).

HI and LO beam
Three prong connector
4002 (obsolete)
4000 (sealed beam) - O.K.
H5006 (sealed beam Halogen) - BEST

HI beam only
Two prong connector
4001 (obsolete)
5001 (sealed beam) - O.K.
H5001 (sealed beam Halogen) - BEST
