OUR NEXT MEETING: 8 PM. TUESDAY NOV. 2nd. 2nd Federal Bldg., Murrysville, Pa.

Attendance has been super at the last few meetings, so plan to arrive early and stop on a free cup of coffee and talk Corvairs until the meeting gets underway. Bill Arzberger is bringing his batch of old car slides to this meeting, since we didn't have time for them at the last meeting. Bill has a very good background concerning old cars, since his grandfather actually manufactured the Arzberger Steam Car right here in "River City". We'll discuss the usual old & new business, along with a tech. section, show & tell and the ever popular 50/50 raffle. So bring something to show us, bring your technical questions, and plan on an enjoyable and informative evening.

WPCG JACKET PATCHES - ON SALE AT THE MEETINGS!

The new jacket patches are in, and do they ever look great. N.P. Dick Freige is handling sales and inventory of the patches. We have priced them very reasonably at $2 each. Get yours quick - they won't last long at that price.

WPCG T-SHIRTS - STILL AVAILABLE AND FOR SALE AT THE MEETINGS. These are the famous "WHAT A PAIR - me & my Corvair" and "Corvairs Eat Fersches" shirts that people are wearing all over the country. Still priced at only $4 each. Walt & Hazel have them and will bring them to the meetings.

FANTASTIC NEW CORVAIR BOOK - "The (in)Complete Corvair Story" by CORVAI board member, Dave Jewell. This fascinating 65 page, fully illustrated, 5½" by 11" book is being exclusively distributed by American Corvair Parts. The book was passed around at the last meeting, and due to a strong interest of people who would like to purchase a book, WPCG ordered 70 copies at the special chapter rate. Treasurer, Jan Fetysonic, has the books, and will be selling them at the meeting for $6.50 each. This is a considerable savings over the individual rate. The books will be sold on a first come first served basis to members. If you want a book but will miss the next meeting, it would be advisable to send Jan a $6.50 check (PAYABLE TO WPCG) and she will hold it for you until you can pick it up at a meeting or event.

OUR LAST MEETING

The Sept. meeting was probably the best attended of the year so far. I counted over 50 people during the tremendous slide presentation. We discussed the above items for sale, Vaughn Hamlin brought us up to date on the state inspection controversy, Wayne & Judy Jones briefed us on the upcoming Avon weekend, Walt Materkowsky will look into the possibility of purchasing autocrossing equipment, Darby Hanill showed us the head & valve work that has been done on their Yenko Stinger, Bill Arzberger had a tech tip concerning the Vair automatic transmission, Joe Ruffer won $12.75 in the 50/50 drawing. Bill & Walt put on a tremendous slide show featuring the national and all three Steel City Concourses. AND IF YOU WERE NOT THERE - YOU MISSED ALL OF THE ACTION!! Our meetings are informative and a lot of fun. Why not drop in on Tuesday and find out for yourself. Don't take my word for it.

John W. Newhart once said: "People can be divided into three groups: those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those who wonder what happened."

When it comes to our club, which one are you? If you fall into group 2 or 3, why not try moving up a group or two? You only go around this life once, you know!!

THE 1970 FALL FESTIVAL OF CORVAIRS

Sunday, Sept. 26 was a beautiful sunny early fall day, which attracted a very large turnout of old cars, spectators, and nine beautiful WPGC Corvairs. Club members who participated included: The Fezels, The Arzbachers (both Tigers), Joe Buffer, John Sebbens, Walt Raczynski, new member, John Benwin, The Breiters, Mary Lou Serra, and yours truly. Mary Lou is still waiting for her Vair to return from the body shop following a fender bender, but she participated with a late 60's Comet. The Arzbachers didn't expect to win when the score sheet stated that originality should receive very high priority. Jim did indicate, however, that both cars have original windshields!!! Joe Buffer & John Benwin helped out by judging the 1940 - 48 iron that was on display. Dick Breiter & myself were assigned the Ford Model A's. We asked if we couldn't judge some later cars, so we were given "THE CLASSICS!!!! That will teach us to open our big mouths!

At any rate, The Breiters' 63 Toronado coupe, won the Corvair division, with John Sebbens' 69 coupe taking second, and Walt Raczynski's 65 coupe taking third. It was a sun filled afternoon, and the Corvairs on display were all as good or better condition than any other make.

VAIR INVESTMENT FROM THE JAN NEWSLETTER OF "THE LONG ISLAND CORVETTE ASSOC."

Points to ponder:

- Let us examine the price of a new car.
1. Purchase price - $5,000 average.
 2. Insurance - $800 a year with a good record.
 3. Upkeep - $300 a year average for the first four years
(This is aside from any out of the ordinary work such as starter motors or water pumps etc.)
 4. Resale value - The car will lose 20% of its resale value the first year unless it has some special quality such as a sports car, economy special or last of its kind.
 5. If you take out a loan to pay for the car you can expect to pay about 12% interest - depending on the time schedule you can expect another $150 to $200 a year.
 6. Sales tax - $350. ($300 or ray)

So when you get down to it a new car costs almost $2000 a year to run. With gas figured in it comes to $2500. When you come down to a cents per mile figure this becomes 25¢ per mile. (Assuming the car is driven 10,000 miles a year.)

So what has this got to do with you and your Corvair? The next time you debate over spending that $100 or $200 on fixing your car think about what the car is costing you compared to a new car. If you have a solid base car to work with, even a complete restoration is not totally unreasonable. To spend $500 to keep the car running for another year will save about $1500. Of course there are reasons for buying a new car and if you keep it for 10 years the costs become a little more tolerable. But it will miss one thing that the Corvair has - it is a piece of automotive history and as such will remain constant if not increase in its value over the years.

CARBURATOR REBUILD KIT LIF NO. 3-5-10

Were you disappointed with the G.M. or other rebuild kit when you did the latest carb rebuild? Next time try *NAPA's ECHLIN #2-5259 kit (1961-1964 except 140 secondaries and 4-bars) for one that has really complete but through instructions, viton tipped float valve, a float measurement gauge that works and includes the rubber seal for the 1965 carb idle vent valve (which by the way has been discontinued by G.M. It was #7027892).

THINK ABOUT THIS ONE - BY HERB BERKMAN OF 5.
CORSI WEST & L.A. CALIFORNIA, 4-CORSA PRESIDENT.

THE NEW STATE MFG INSPECTION - IT ISN'T SO BAD - IF YOU PASS!

I recently bought a 1960 Monza (another one) with 35,000 miles on it. It runs pretty good, but since I bought it after March 19, I knew I would have to go through the newly initiated State-run smog inspection station. The days of sending away to an unknown post-office box to get your black market smog certificate are over.

Of course, 1960 cars had absolutely no smog controls. In fact, they even have a road-draft tube sticking out the bottom for crankcase ventilation. It was with some curiosity and a great deal of anxiety that I looked forward to the smog test. I guess I just resigned myself to failing the test and then having to go to a certifidg inspection station to have it repaired. Of course the best hope in that case is that it will cost more than $50. If it does, you're automatically exempt. The worst thing that could happen is to get caught into installing a MM-3DCK retrofit device. No way. Jeez.

Anyway, I decided to just leave the engine alone. It was running fine when I got in. I did change the oil and filter and upon finding it startable after sitting for a week, I replaced the fuel pump. That's all.

On a Wednesday, about noon, I went over to the inspection station, at 9033 Wilshire Ave. They have four lanes, of which three were open. About 10 cars were in each lane. The wait was no longer than about seven minutes for the shortest car in line. The average seemed to be about three minutes.

When you go through, you first stop at a technician who asks you what year, etc., and takes down the first two digits of your odometer reading. The door opens the hood and looks at your engine (I don't know why). Then she enters the info on the computer and sends you straight to a bay with a sign for you to drive on to. He gets you on the engine and sticks a sniffer up your tailpipe (cool!) while another guy hooks an indicator back-up to something on the engine. About 30 seconds later he tells you to drive ahead and then hands you a sheet torn out of a computer with the results printed on it. If you pass you also get a form to take to the DMV to get your registration.

Guess what? I passed. In fact the readings didn't come anywhere near the limits. On hydrocarbons, the reading was 170 ppm out of a allowance of 1200, and on Carbon Monoxide, 11.7% of 12.5% of a possible 12. As I left, the Technician said "you've got a pretty clean little engine there. unusual for that carburetor."

Gee, I just don't get it. If a little old 1960 car (nineteen years old) without a tuneup can be that clean, why is it costing us billions and billions in new regulations and emissions controls to clean up the air? Looks to me like some idiot bureaucrat has completely screwed up our economy, life-style, government and everything else important for absolutely nothing. I feel like going into a sound-proof room and covering my head off for a couple of days. Herb Berkman

'64 HOODS - By Tim Shevlin, from the Vintage Times Newsletter, Vintage CORSA . . .

While working on our '64 Monza project car, we discovered that the hood was hopelessly rusted away around the "CORVAIR" letters at the front, a common problem created by Fisher Body but thankfully corrected in a mid-1964 change. The second design hood has letters fastened by rubber washer equipped nuts that are readily seen on the underside of the hood. Check to see if your '64 restoration has the early design, and if so, try to obtain the relatively rare second design in a wrecking yard while they are still available. A good used trunk lid will probably cost you less than having the old rusted one fixed.
